Wheat Vote Set May 21

May 21 has been set as the date for the vote to determine the wheat program for the 1964 wheat crop, says Jim Smith, county agent. Important policy decisions will result from this referendum. The vote will be based on more than 44,500 eligible Virginia farms. In Appomattox County there will be 765 eligible farms.

For the first time growers with less than 15 acres of wheat are eligible to vote. These growers are eligible to vote. These growers are operators. Out of the total eligible Virginia farms, 92 per cent are samll farms. Wheat growers with over 15 acre allotment, or large farms, are only eight per cent of the total. These growers are automatically eligible to vote in the 196 referendum.

The small farm operators must indicate their willingness to participate in the program before being allowed to cast a ballot in the referendum. However, after signing the pledge, the voter does have the privilege of casting a "ye" or "no" vote. Smith points out that those who do not vote (fail to sign the pledge of participation) will be affected by the outcome of the referendum just as much as if they had voted.

The small farm non - particpant will be able to plant 10 percent above his allotment or his base acres. For this privilege of a 10 per cent additional planting he will lose his right to vote, his diversion payments, as well as support prices for his wheat crop. The excess acreage penalty would apply to the 10 per cent average above allotment, which would mean reduced allotment on future wheat crops. This reduction is computed by taking 20 per cent of the excess acres frcm the original base.

Those people who are elicible to vote include farm operators, owners, tenants, and members of their families with an interest in the wheat crop. This interest in the crop may either be money, or labor, so long as it results in a share of the crop. Both the husband and the wife, if they are owners, may vote if their names appear jointly on the deed. By this provision there could be many more than one vote for each eligible farm.

For further information on the wheat referendum, County Agent Smith has available a new circular — Extension Circular 925— "Wheat Alternatives for the Virginia Growers."

Fire Destroys Reynolds' Home

The Lonnie Reynolds' home on Route 615 near Liberty Chapel, was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, April 25. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and their four children were all absent from the home at the time.

Fire Warden David Smith said that he and assistants used tanks of water on the fire — rescued part of the furniture and appliances from the house. Both Gladstone and Appomattox fire fighting units answered the call, and kept fire confined to the house.

L. C. Reynolds, 16, said that he and his younger sisters and brother had saved part of their clothes, but that a good part of their furniture had been badly damaged.

"We're really thankful for the fire trucks and firemen," L. C. said. He added that colored tenants on the farm had also been very helpful.

RAD Plans New Highway Signs

You don't have to MAKE the sign — just think of the appropriate words to put APPOMATTOX on the highway! Dr. J. A. Mathews, of the RAD committee, is asking for suggestions for five highway signs to be erected at all major entries to Appomattox. The Appomattox High School Vo-Ag students will do the actual work of routing out the sign on long - lasting redwood. The result will be an attractive marker for motorists.

Get out that ball point pen and a postcard, and send your suggestions to Dr. Mathews in time for the next Rural Area Development Committee meeting on Tuesday, May 7. RAD will meet at Farmers' National Bank.

A sample suggestion: "Welcome to Historic Appomattox — Where the Nation was Reborn."

This program will change the future of the wheat program. Farm Bureau urges all growers to study the issues involved and vote.

Smith Says Jet Fuel Caused "Ball Of Fire"

The first ground - soaking rain in more than a month fell on Appomattox Monday night. Intermittent showers fell on Tuesday bringing problems to the housewife, but welcome relief to farmers and fire wardens.

County fire warden David M. Smith said that his pockets, notebooks, and Forestry Division truck are crammed with notes on fires, people who fought fires, and probable reasons for each fire.

Fire on the Mountain

A whopping total of 292 acres has burned in recent weeks, said Smith — not a large total by other counties' records, but high for Appomattox. The Chestnut Mountain fire of April 25 burned 120 acres. At least four local wardens were at the scene when the fire jumped the James River at that point, Smith reported. They could not fight it effectively at that time, he reported.

He said on Saturday that Berkely Garrett, acting local forest warden, is on full-time duty to assist Smith and Paul Thompson in their patrol duties of the woodland.

The Billy Ferguson property fire, near Pamplin, on April 25 burned 7 acres and was probably caused by lightning, Smith said. Lightning is also held responsible for an 28 acre fire on Rt. 727 Monday, April 22, close to Fleshman's Store.

Two fires on April 4 burned about 52 acres of timberland; one on Rt. 727 was caused by a young child playing with matches; the other one in Evergreen, by sparks from a passing train. A few days later another train caused a three acre fire on the Maxwell property near Rt. 60 between Appomattox and Pamplin. Bees and beehives were destroyed valued at $1125, Smith said.

Fireball Fire

Smith and Paul Thompson, county forester, are of the opinion that the fireball seen Friday, April 19, shortly before the 5 acre fire on the Parker Lee property, Evergreen, was caused by burning fuel from a jet plane. The fire at Bent Creek on Saturday, April 20, was caused by a smoker's careless cigarette Smith says, and 120 acres burned over when fire came through from Amherst County the same day. Probable cause of that large fire is still being investigated. An additional 10 acres burned in miscellaneous fires during the same period bringing the estimated total to 292 acres.

Local Singers Featured In Sunday Service

The 2 p.m. music service at Hollywood Baptist Church on Sunday, April 28, included many local singing groups and soloists. At the earlier service Sunday morning Hollywood Church celebrated its 85th anniversary and held a dedication service for new Sunday School rooms.

A quartette from New Hope Baptist Church was heard first. Singers were Walker O'Brien, Walker Covington, Hugh Mitchell and Bill Conner, accompanied by Mrs. Bessie O'Brien. Mary McClenny and James Hall sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Elder. Mrs. Anne Reynolds sang a solo. The Hollywood Baptist Church quartette with Mrs. W. H. Elder, Mrs. Bonnie Repass Jim Franklin, and Harry Jenkins, was accompanied by Mrs. Roberta Austin.

A quartette from Piney Ridge-Evergreen composed of Dwight Paulette, Jack Paulette, Thomas Ranson, and R. C. Beale also sang, accompanied by Miss Valerie Paulette. Reverend Tom Waddell, pastor of Spout Spring Baptist Church sang a solo, and the choir of the Hollywood Church also sang a special number. An overflow congregation was on hand for the event.

Right-Of-Way Crews Start Pipeline Through County

191 Miles Of Pipelines To Take 6 Months

Seven a.m. Wednesday was the scheduled starting hour for the first crew to begin work on the new 191-mile section of pipeline reaching from a point near Brookneal to Colonial, Md., and traversing the southeastern edge of Appomattox County.

Nick - off point was the property of Mrs. Gray Elder, Route 605 in Campbell County. The clearing crew, consisting of 15 to 20 men, began Wednesday to cut fences, clear out timber and to get ready for the burning crew which will follow in about three days, according to Office Manager D. L. Marley, of Houston Contracting Company. Houston Contracting has charge of this segment of the 1600 miles of pipe planned by Colonial Pipeline Company, of Atlanta., Ga.

Other Crews Being Organized

Workers are beginning to come into the Appomattox area. Ditch foreman Ralph Bergschneider was overhauling machinery and inspecting equipment Monday. The grading foreman and rock ditch foreman have walked the length of the right - of - way to Manassas in the last ten days or so checking the terrain to be dug.

Aerial maps in the Houston Contractors' Appomattox office show cultivated and wooded areas with marker pins which will pinpoint the exact location of each crew as it procedes down the right-of-way.

Sixteen Crews

At least sixteen crews are necessary for the pipeline operation, Marley explained Monday. The Clearing, Burning, and Grading Crew is followed by the Rock Crew, he said, which dynamites rocky terrain. The Ditch crew comes next, preparing the ground with "ditchers" with big wheels to scoop out the ground. A Stringing crew comes next, laying pipe along the open ditch. A Road Crossing crew bores under highways, laying casing into which the pipeline is later fitted. The Bending crew bends the Bending crew bends the pipe to fit the contour of the ground. A pipe crew makes the first weld in the pipe, which is still lying on the right-of-way at ground level. The Welding crew follows; then the Dope crew which cleans, primes, and puts a protective coating on the outside of the pipe. The Lower - In crew, using side boom tractors, takes the pipe of "skids" and lowers it into the ditch. The Back-Fill crew uses bulldozers and other equipment to cover the exposed pipe. A Clean Up crew follows to rebuild fences along the right of way, and in general, restores the area to its original appearance. A Testing crew will test each ten mile section of pipe, pushing water through it to check for any leaks, and a special River Crossing crew is used so that the other crews will not be held up.

C. L. Farris, of Louisiana is foreman of the first crew out — the clearing crew. Workers are expected to come from Louisiana Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, and other western and mid-western states, as the pipeline begins to grow. Lake Construction Co., of Georgia, is building the segment which will join with Houston Contracting's section at the Grey property in Campbell County.

Senator Moses Presents Key To New Station Wagon For Rescue Squad

Senator Charles Moses, in behalf of Moses' Motor Company, Appomattox on Saturday presented Captain Kenneth Jamerson of the county Rescue Squad the key to a 1963 Chevrolet Impala Station Wagon. Outfitted especially to carry patients and equipped with a siren and flashing red light, it will be used by the Squad for a year. Then Grinels' Motor Company, Appomattox, plans to present the Squad with a Ford station wagon under the same "free use" plan for a year. The Squad has recently purchased a plot of ground adjoining West End Market on Route 460, hoping to build a shelter for their equipment. Squad members are asking that anyone with crutches, wheel chair, hospital bed, or other equipment not being used, consider giving it to the Squad for their "loan closet."

Civil War Centennial Committee To Meet May 9

The Appomattox County Civil War Centennial Committee has called a special meeting to be held at the court house Thursday, May 9th, at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting should be of interest to every person, club, businessman or organization interested in promoting the centennial observance in Appomattox. The committee would like to hear the opinions of all interested persons concerning not only plans for the actual commemoration of peace on April 9th, 1965, but ideas on how to attract visitors to our community and park all through the years.

As far as the centennial itself is concerned, your committee feels that the settlement of peace here at Appomattox on April 9, 1865 offers us the most important spot in the whole four years of the centennial observance in that it is the climaxing, as well as culminating event.

It is expected that a member of the Civil War Commission in Richmond will be present for meeting to help us in any way possible, so your presence is urged. Please plan to attend.
